

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

GENERAL INFORMATION

The performance is two hours long, including a 15-minute intermission.

This performance contains:

- Some loud noises, including thunder crashes and singing. We recommend patrons bring their own noise-canceling headphones if required. Ford's Theatre has a limited number of noise-canceling headphones available on a first-come, first-served basis.
- Haze and smoke effects, sometimes accompanied by flashing lights.
- Walking ghosts and flying ghosts appear on stage throughout the performance. They are often accompanied by haze, smoke and flashing lights.

TICKETING

All tickets for A Christmas Carol are held under the patron's name and can be picked up upon arrival at the Box Office.

The Box Office is located in the main lobby of Ford's Theatre.

RELAXED "RULES" AT FORD'S THEATRE

We invite you to be your authentic self.

We welcome you to move about the theatre or leave to take a break. Quiet spaces will be available in the museum (downstairs) and the lobby. You may take as many breaks as you need, and can return to the theatre whenever you are ready.

The theatre is a no "shushing" zone!

Staff and volunteers are trained in sensory-friendly experiences and are on site to assist you.

We welcome you to bring your own sensory comforts (weighted blankets, textured cushions, fidgets, communication devices, etc.).
